Miracle in the Desert: The Rise and Fall of the Salton Sea (2020) - IMDb. Directed by Greg Bassenian. The Salton Sea is an unfolding environmental disaster of extraordinary magnitude. As the largest lake in California begins to dry, millions of lives are in danger as clouds of toxic dust, massive fish kills and the destruction of an entire ecosystem threatens the health of millions in southern California, many who have no voice or little representation in the state legislature.

Instantaneous disasters (floods, volcano eruptions) happen in the beginning of the turn, and inflict damage (and increase yields) only once. Most disasters stay immobile, that is, even if they last for several turns, they will only affect one area. This makes possible to outline potentially threatened areas - check the Settler lens for that.
