Natural Movement® Fundamentals - MovNat® E-Courses

In a recent article at Medium, Why You Should 'Exercise Snack' Throughout the Day, they state that "short bouts of physical movement — like briskly climbing stairs a few times a day — can effectively improve a person's fitness level." They add that "in other recent studies, exercise snacking has shown to be effective in reducing blood sugar and in lowering blood pressure — more effective, even, than one bout of 30-minute, daily exercise."
