The conservation and restoration of books, manuscripts, documents and ephemera is an activity dedicated to the preservation and protection of items of historical and personal value made primarily from paper, parchment, and leather. When applied to cultural heritage, conservation activities are generally undertaken by a conservator. The primary goal of conservation is to preserve the lifespan of the object as well as maintaining its integrity by keeping all additions reversible.

Ever since its original publication in Germany in 1938, Max Schweidler's Die Instandsetzung von Kupferstichen, Zeichnungen, Buchern usw. has been recognized as a seminal modern text on the conservation and restoration of works on paper. This volume, based on the authoritative revised German edition of 1950, makes Schweidler's work available in English for the first time, in a meticulously edited and annotated scholarly edition. An extensively illustrated appendix presents case studies of eleven Old Master prints that were treated using the techniques Schweidler discusses.

That we still do have unsolved problems in book and paper conservation has been shown elsewhere and the Research Centre was actually founded on this basis. It is, however, now important to carefully select the first topics of research. To do this, experts from all over Europe have been invited to bring forward their concerns. - Each of the individual contributions represents the state of the art and the degree of knowledge available in that topic. The authors speak not only for the various institutions concerned with book conservation such as libraries, archives, universities, museums and print and drawing collections, but they also represent a wide range of aspects from the European cultural landscape as well as contributions from the United States, India, Iran and the Caucasus region.

Accompanying CD-ROM contains 257 full-color images corresponding to the 257 illustrations found in the printed edition, along with 2 short videos (11 min. and 6 min. in length, respectively) showing conservation techniques.
