What was the Congress of Vienna?

| History Today

Summary On September 1814, the Congress of Vienna began. All the powers of Europe sent delegates to decide the issue of the day: the reorganization of the chaotic Europe Napoleon's conquest had left behind. The members of the Congress were all afraid of a strong France, so they created strong border states.

The Congress of Vienna famously closed with the signing of the Final Act on 9 June 1815. One can almost imagine the immortal engraving of Jean Isabey and Jean Godefroy with its portraits of all the main negotiators from the Committee of Eight as capturing that very meeting. The historical image of this solemn moment is, however, in part a myth.
